The Washington Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

By the thread of one man's life hung personal relationships which affected nations. Prime ministers and potentates, once close to Franklin Roosevelt, now must learn how to get along with an unknown gentleman in the White House. Certain army-navy officials, who always knew how Roosevelt would react on this and that, now must do business with a man they once criticized.

To illustrate how the pendulum of fate has swung, here are some of those who will miss Franklin Roosevelt most:

WINSTON CHURCHILL — was able to call the late President on the telephone at any time night or day. Their relationship was more intimate than with most members of their own cabinets. When Churchill couldn't get Roosevelt, he talked to Harry Hopkins. Their friendship was equally close. Hopkins and Churchill used to stay up late at night sipping brandy long after FDR had gone to bed, and it was those late-hour talks that sometimes worried U. S army-navy men. For vital policy sometimes was moulded after midnight.

Churchill had planned to hold national elections, probably in June, and Roosevelt's friendship would have been one of his great campaign assets. That asset is now out the window. Instead he must do business with a man he doesn't know and who chairmanned a committee whose members were quite critical of certain British lend-lease and international air policies abroad.

Some political observers believe that makes Churchill's political future very uncertain.

ADMIRAL ERNEST KING—The Commander of the Fleet and Chief of Naval Operations really ran the navy under Roosevelt, and he ran it with a high hand. He ignored the late Secretary Frank Knox whenever he felt like it, knowing he would get a sympathetic ear at the White House. He even overruled Knox on such a trivial matter as a gray-blue summer uniform for the navy, though Knox had decided it would cut too heavily into the consumption of textiles.

Knox's successor, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, has played in with King. He had to. If King didn't agree with him, the admiral came out bluntly in press conference and said so.

But now there is a new man in the White House who wrote a caustic report bitterly critical of the way the admirals slowed up the war by failure to build adequate landing boats. The new President also did not hesitate to throw his hooks into the navy whenever the brass hats got inefficient, especially on their inexcusable procrastination in building destroyer-escort vessels. So fellow-admirals are watching to see just where King now sits.

GENERAL B. B. SOMERVELL—No army officer clashed with the Truman committee more frequently and more head-on than the tough-talking chief supply officer of the army. Somervell differed with Truman on all sorts of things, and the Truman committee reports are studded with criticism of the army's supply job.

Truman is not a man to nurse personal grudges and won't demote or transfer Somervell. General Marshall always maintained that despite mistakes he was the best man they had. But Somervell will never become chief of staff, or rise any higher in the army.

HARRY HOPKINS—Of all those around Roosevelt, Harry Hopkins will miss him most. Their's was a very close personal relationship. Although Harry has been criticized vitriolically, sometimes even by other presidential intimates, FDR never wavered in his devotion. In a way, Harry took the place of Roosevelt's eldest son, Jimmie, whom he once hoped would be his secretary. So Harry will miss his old friend terribly.

The critics will say that Hopkins will miss him because of the glamour, the power and the prestige. But actually there was a love and devotion between the two men which few realized and even fewer understood.

Note—Several years ago, Roosevelt gave Hopkins permission to take notes on their discussions and write his memoirs. "You have no money, Harry," he said, "and you're foolish if you don't take notes on our conversations. You have my full permission to use them later." But Hopkins, always too busy, always engrossed with winning the Chief's next objective, never had time to take notes. He knows more about Roosevelt than any other living man, but most of the secrets will go with Hopkins to the grave.

BERNARD BARUCH—The man who talks with Presidents, no longer has the key to the White House. During the bitter battles between the War Production board civilian group and General Somervell's military clique, Baruch always backed up Somervell. In fact, he was one of Somervell's most vigorous supporters.

Truman, on the other hand, fought in the WPB civilian corner. Also Bernie was for Byrnes, not Truman, at the Chicago convention. So he may not be such a close friend to Presidents any more.

Rev. Bennett to Leave After 18 Years of Service

Rev. Josept H. Bennett recently resigned from the Campbell Congregational Church after 18 years of service not only to the church, but to the whole community. Coming from London in 1927 to the healthful California sunshine hoping to benefit his wife's failing health, he took over the Campbell church with the spirit of the true organizer os well as preacher.

From that date to this his work has been of outstanding achievement, especially among the young people. A Sea Scout troop was organized followed by the organization of Scout Troops 28 and 31 and Cub Packs 1 and 13. In the case of Cub Pack No. 1 the organization was made by special permission of Scout Headquarters in New York several years before the American Cub movement had been organized. The Campbell Congregational Church has been a center of Youth work, having organized groups of ages ranging from juniors to college age, being given not only spiritual guidance but recreation through yearly summer camps and various social activities throughout the remainder of the year.

THE REV. J. H. BENNETT

During his pastorate the church building has been greatly improved with the addition of new seating in the main auditorium, a new organ and interior decorations. Recently the basement of the church has been enlarged and patrol rooms for Scouts have been added, which is the first step in the post war building program that Rev. Bennett has encouraged during these past months.

Rev. Bennett is known thruout northern California as a speaker at various clubs and organizations. He has been a member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club for the past 17 years and of "The Prunes", a select ministerial study group, for the length of his Campbell pastorate. He is a student of internationalism and has attended many conferences and conventions in furtherance of his studies.

Owing to the recent death of Mrs. Bennett, he plans on spending some time visiting with his son, Dennis, and studying at the Chicago University. He will leave for the middle west on May 19, and will remain in that part of the country if a suitable pastorate is offered him.

This community is losing a sincere preacher, an earnest friend of the young people and a man who has been in the middle of every good thing in his community for these past many years.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

AS WE TEND OUR VICTORY GARDENS THIS YEAR WE WILL FIND GREAT THINGS GROWING THERE BESIDE THE VEGETABLES. WE WILL BE GROWING OUR INDIVIDUAL CONTRIBUTION TO THE NATION'S FOOD SUPPLY — THE SATISFACTION OF WATCHING OUR OWN PLANTS MATURE AND FRUIT — AND WHEN HARVEST TIME COMES, HONEST PRIDE IN A JOB WELL-DONE BY OUR OWN HANDS.

MANY GOOD THINGS GROW IN A WELL-TENDED LIFE — WHEN KINDNESS, INTELLIGENCE, INDUSTRY AND THRIFT ARE SOWN... FROM KINDNESS SPRINGS GOOD-WILL AMONG OURSELVES AND OUR NEIGHBORS; FROM INTELLIGENCE AND INDUSTRY GROW OUR BEST ASSURANCE OF TOTAL VICTORY AND LASTING PEACE; FROM OUR SAVINGS IN WAR BONDS, LIFE INSURANCE AND SAVINGS ACCOUNTS COME THE FRUITS OF SECURITY FOR OURSELVES AND THE NATION.

Victory Gardens Subject of Talk at Kiwanis Meeting

Chairman Mark Purmort introduced G. D. Worswick as the guest speaker at the May 8 meeting of the Kiwanis club.

The speaker whose subject was "Gardening" stressed the importance of Victory Gardens this year more than ever as less acreage is being planted and at the same time a greater demand for food is being made by our government not only for our armed forces but also for the liberated countries. There is less help available so with it all we should as a patriotic duty as well as for our own welfare plant gardens. He very interestingly described various methods of preparing the soil, irrigation, cultivation, and the control of pests. Several very fine slides were shown to demonstrate what is being done in group gardening as well as privately operated gardens.

The meeting next week will be on Thursday at 12:15 p. m. instead of Tuesday.

Blood Donors

Mrs. Percy Dunlap and children, Bobby, Ronnie and Lois, were up from Watsonville Sunday visiting friends. Mrs. Dunlap has just returned from a five weeks trip to Florida with her husband, who is now at Seattle, Wash.

Water Company Improvements Completed

The Campbell Water company is completing an extensive and expensive improvement located on its lot at the corner of South First street and Rincon avenue.

An attractive new building has been built which houses a new 100 horsepower diesel operated pumping plant, with a storage underground tank holding fuel oil to run the engine for 1000 hours.

The new plant is connected not only for irrigation but the water can be turned directly into the mains within four minutes in case of need, delivering 750 gallons per minute.

The purpose of the water company in providing this additional service is to provide for the possibility of failure of electric power through an "act of God," strikes or some other unforseen reason the larger plant which serves the community should be out of service.

Campbell is to be congratulated in having a company so far sighted and progressive as very few communities have a secondary plant such as this.

Bill Nelson Upped To First Class

U. S. Naval Air Station, Kaneohe Bay, T. H.—The Navy Department announces that Bill Nelson, Jr., of Campbell, now serving at this Naval Air Station, has been advanced from the rating of aviation ordnanceman second class to that of aviation ordnanceman first class.

This advancement has come to Nelson in recognition of outstanding faithfulness and skill in the performance of duty and completion of the course of study prescribed for this new rating.

Members of Club Observe V-E Day Monday, May 7

The Country Woman's club held its regular meeting at the club rooms on Monday afternoon. In observance of V-E Day the members were led by Mrs. Worthin Grattan in singing the Doxology and God Bless America, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Mrs. David Rutherford was accompanist for the singing.

During the business session thanks were extended to members who had helped at the grammar school in sorting clothes for the National Clothing Drive and financial support was pledged for the Campbell Youth Council. Announcements were made of the Musical Concert on May 13 at Los Gatos and the Mother's Day Tea, sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary, to be held on May 12 in the club rooms. Mrs. Ralph Herring was voted into the membership of the club.

Mrs. J. B. Collins, chairman of the afternoon, introduced Mrs. Frank Jopson who spoke on the subject of "Food in War and Peace," highly recommending to her audience the book "Food for the World" by Ed Scholtz. In her talk Mrs. Jopson stressed the fact that international relationships were brought closer through food and specified that in Britian workers are fed once a day at their place of employment in order to help maintain a level of proper nourishment.

The vocal selections of the afternoon were presented by Mrs. Minnie De Reschke, accompanied by Mr. Torrington. She chose "The First Morning," "Spring Is Here" and "Kiss Me Again" as an encore.

The committee for the afternoon assisting Mrs. Collins was comprised of Mesdames Nellie Rutherford, D. W. Ribble, L. J. Carboni, M. A. Ross and Ernest Fahler.

S. Sgt. Tom Smith Awarded Medal

S/Sgt. George T. Smith, Jr., (who is known to Campbell as Tom Smith), who is a prisoner of war, was awarded the Air Medal "for meritorious achievement in aerial flight while participating in sustained operational activities against the enemy between Nov. 16 to Dec. 15, 1943."

His father, George T. Smith, Sr., of San Tomas road and Virginia avenue, received the award in ceremonies Saturday at the Fourth Air Forces Hamilton Field. A number of other awards of various types were made at that time.

Alson A. Yeager, class of '44 of the C. U. H. S. is now at the Amarilla, Texas Air Field, where he has completed basic training in the Army Air Corps, following initial training at Camp Beale. Owing to announced plans of reducing the air training force he is not certain of what his next assignment may be.

Junior Red Cross Very Active At Grammar School

All the pupils in the Grammar school are members of the Junior Red Cross. There are 31 rooms and 1200 members.

Thirty-five gift boxes for children overseas were packed and sent in December. Three hundred and fifty-nine new, stamped Christmas cards were donated for the Veterans' Hospitals. Fifty blood donors were signed up by the members.

Our work for May has been the packing of thirty educational gift boxes for the Philippines. Many children there have never been to school and many others wish to begin again.

The Art department is preparing fifty Christmas posters which will be sent in decorative units to our men overseas.

The members have shown great interest and have made a real contribution to the war effort.

Richard Arlidge Gets S. Sgt. Stripes

Mr. and Mrs. George Arlidge of Campbell Avenue have received word from their son Richard, that he has been further promoted to the rank of Staff Sergeant. He has also been officially awarded three Clusters for his Air Medal, and is awaiting the further presentation of the Silver Cluster to which he is now entitled, having flown in excess of 25 missions over enemy country.

He informs his parents that he has seen some of the official pictures of the German atrocities, which he describes as being very gruesome. He states that in his opinion everyone should be compelled to see them in order to form an opinion of the bestiality of the enemy. In this case he thinks that the impressions left would have a tendency to awaken everyone to the horrors of war and so influence their minds to the utter idiocy of permitting future conflicts.

It is now Major Willis Green according to word he has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Green of Casey road. Major Green is in the Mediterranean Allied Air Force Headquarters in Italy. Willis is another Campbell boy of the many who have brought honor to Campbell in this world conflict.

Pfc. Hesley U. C. Lemmons, son of Josh J. Lemmons of Campbell was listed as wounded in a report of Army-Navy casualties in the war against Germany.

MOTHER'S DAY

"Mother".

A simple word. Yet touches the heart of every individual with the feeling of tenderness and love. It recalls from the storehouse of memory the patient kindness of the one who guarded him in his earliest years, guided him through the "trials and tribulations" of adolescence, and instilled in him the love of God, and respect toward his fellowmen.

Mother's Day, on Sunday, May 13, will mark the thirty-first anniversary since it was first observed nationally through President Wilson's proclamation.

The end of the great battles in Europe makes Mother's Day of 1945 more joyous than those of the past several years. American mothers are aware that their sons still face a mighty task in the Pacific, but they are confident that the job will be finished and the final victory won.

But, today these mothers pray not only for military success of their sons, but for their final victory at the peace table, so that the mothers of another generation may never have to see their sons march off to war.

DISABLED WAR WORKERS MAKE GOOD

A severe jog to the self esteem of the big and burley among us is contained in the official report that physically handicapped workers in the war plants are turning out a better job than the able bodied.

In a comparative study of 2,853 crippled workers and 5,523 physically normal workers, the War and Navy Departments found the normal employees lagging far behind in production and in quality of work.

The news will surprise strong and healthy producers who thought they were turning in a pretty fair performance up to now, but some reasons for the differential seem evident. The handicapped person usually takes his job more seriously, just as he takes life with less frivolity, than his physically fit neighbor. If he acquired his disability in battle, he sees the compelling need of his war work far more clearly than many around him.

A crippled person engaged in work he is trained for perhaps obeys the safety regulations even better than the man who never suffered an injury. He is apt to be pretty dependable, steady on the job and probably less subject to absenteeism in baseball season. His disabilities impose limitations upon him, but according to the Army-Navy survey he generally does so well with the abilities he has left that he far outstrips his normal fellow employes.

The splendid record of hindicapped war workers now will serve as an inspiration, guidance and new hope to many more thousands of disabled veterans who will be heading home from overseas in the months to come.

WAR BONDS—PEACE BONDS

With the Seventh War Loan drive scheduled to begin offically on May 14, there is little to be said which has not been siad before as to the reasons why every American should buy War Bonds to the limit of his financial capacity.

A recent editorial in the BRENTWOOD NEWS expressed a logical and refreshing approach on the subject of buying War Bonds. It declared, ".... by buying Bonds to the limit of our resources at this time, we may be also insuring a stable period of post-war adjustment. If we shirk our responsibilitiy to buy War Bonds, the war effort will not break down; other methods, less agreeable methods, will be applied to finance the war. On the other hand, if we dissipate the money which could go to the purchase of Bonds in wasteful spending, we are asking for trouble later on, not only for ourselves but for the men who are fighting for us.

So the Bonds we buy are Peace Bonds as well as War Bonds. They help win the peace as well as the war. Let us invest in a prosperous peace both for our servicemen and ourselves. Let us do it today.

Services for James W. Noethig Held Monday

Farewell services were held Monday morning from the Amos O. Williams parlors in San Jose for James Willis Noethig, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis B. Noethig.

Jimmie, as he was called, was found slumped on the floor by his parents Friday, with an automatic pistol bullet in his brain, and a gun lying by his side.

Mr. and Mrs. Noethig had been away, he at his work and she shopping and the boy had been told to go to the home of his grandparents after school to await his parents return. Not finding him there, accompanied by the grandfather, James Smith, they went to their home and found him.

He was still alive and was rushed to the county hospital but pronounced dead upon arrival.

The coroners office investigated but death was apparently accidental.

Jack Anderson In Radio Address

With interest not only of the United States, but of the entire world, centering on the new President and Washington, D. C., the broadcast to be given Saturday afternoon, May 12, by Congressman Jack Z. Anderson will be of particular importance. Anderson's talk, which will be given over KQW at 3:30 p.m. and KHUB at 4:15 p.m., will deal with "Washington and the New President."

In his broadcast Congressman Anderson will answer many of the queries he has received from people in this district regarding the new President. These include questions as to his personality, his background, his ability and his attitude. Anderson has been personally acquainted with President Truman for some four years, and has had the opportunity to learn a great deal about him personally as well as in his official capacity.

Paul Farnham Is First Lieutenant

A 7th AAF Heavy Bomber Base in the Marianas—Paul Farnham of Campbell, a B-24 Liberator bomber navigator with the 11th Heavy Bomber Group, has been promoted to first lieutenant at this Marianas base.

Lieutenant Farnham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin H. Farnham, live at Rt. 1, Box 162, Campbell. He graduated from Campbell High School in 1940 and attended San Jose State College, entering the army in February, 1943.

Youth Center to Close until June 16

President Herbert Shadle presided at a meeting of the Campbell Youth Council held Monday night, May 7.

Having accepted the resignation of H. A. Belyew, Los Gatos, at a previous meeting, the Council voted to close the Youth Center at the Scout hall on North Third street temporarily, reopening again on Saturday night, June 16, the day after school closes.

The reason for closing for a few weeks is primarily to obtain new equipment necessary for the summer season and to make certain changes and renovations. The Council voted to purchase as their own equipment a juke box.

Organizations and individuals are urged to take the steps necessary to help provide funds for the summer program.

A committee is interviewing candidates for director of the Youth Center and summer playground program. Anyone interested in applying for this position, or as an assistant, may contact H. M. Shadle, 96 Alice avenue.

SILVER TEA

The Campbell American Legion Auxiliary will sponsor a Tea Saturday afternoon, May 12, from 2:30 to 4:30, in the Country Woman's Club Room, in Campbell. The public is invited, and as Mother's Day will be celebrated May 13, all Service Mothers will be honored on this occasion.

Mrs. Gertrude Wood, chairman, assisted by a large committee, will convert the hall into an ideal tea-room, which will make a gorgeous and colorful setting for a most exquisite tea-table. A program of music will be given, and those attending are promised a very delightful and entertaining afternoon. A silver offering will be received.

X-Ray Trailer Here Next Week

The X-Ray trailer of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Assn. will be stationed at the Campbell high school next week Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday for x-ray examinations of students and Thursday for adults from 9 to 3. Free chest x-rays are given and adults, especially parents of children who have shown reactions, are urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

The Chamber of Commerce will meet Monday, May 14, at G. E. Farley's office at 8 p. m. There after the meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of each month at the Country Woman's club room.

Local Man Aids in Front Line Blessed Event In Italy

With The Fifth Army, Italy—It was just about midnight when an artilleryman of the 91st "Powder River" Division, rushed into the Headquarters aid station on the Fifth Army front in Italy to wake Major Allen A. Fishbien of Campbell.

He reported that a blessed event was about to take place in the home of an Italian family nearby and asked the army doctor if he wanted to help.

The major aroused two of his assistants, Sergeant Chas. W. Stewart of Tacoma, Washington, and Corporal Arturo Perez of Laredo, Texas, to assist in the task. As the Yanks drew up to the Italians' home, the family was in state of great excitement.

The wait for the stork was not especially long. The Italian family cooperated with the usual hot water and also saw to it that the room was warm for the expected arrival.

Two hours later the battered house shook with the noises of battle and little Josephine Barbarina started life in the midst of the 91st Division Artillery's royal welcome.

Youth Drowns at Stevens Reservoir

The body of Steve Veitenheimer, 17, who was drowned Monday evening in Stevens Creek reservoir was recovered Tuesday and is at the Rutheford Funeral Home, where funeral services will be held Friday morning at 8:30 a. m. followed by low mass at St. Martin's church in Burbank.

Young Veitenheimer and a cousin Clarence Steinberger, found an old tin boat which they paddled out to deep water and then Steinberger dove off for a swim. When he rose to the surface the boat and his cousin were missing.

The youth is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Veitenheimer and eleven brothers and sisters.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Hocking, Union avenue, a girl, Frances Joanne, on April 20, at O'Connor sanitorium.

Elwood E. Grabie, 33, of Campbell and Verna Fabre Bowen, 35, of Mobile, Florida, were issued a marriage license this week.

Ada Rebekans Initiate Three New Members

Ada Rebekah Lodge convened Tuesday evening, May 1, with Helen Rice, Noble Grand, presiding. The hall was beautifully decorated with roses and other spring flowers. High light of the evening was initiation of three candidates, Shirley P. Hay, Anamae Pereira, and Clara E. Seekin.

Distinguished guests were Edith Lear Gallup, District Deputy President, Peggy Melhorn, District Deputy Marshal, and Noble and Vice Grands of District 3, who were given seats of honor and presented with corsages by Josephine Gray and Jessie Silberbauer.

The next regular meeting will be May 15, with Carrie Silver, Theresa Brydon, June Rice, Lena Robinson and Harry Silver serving. Second nomination of officers will be held. Any members having applications for membership are requested to bring them to the next regular meeting, as plans are being made for another initiation to be held in June.

Cambrian Club Installs Officers

The May meeting of the Cambrian Home and School Club was held Wednesday, with Mrs. Norman Pratt presiding. "Souvenir" by Drdla and "Humoresque" by Dvorak were played by Ellis Fischer, violinist, with Miss Margaret Root at the piano.

The highlight of the afternoon was the installation by Mrs. Joe Keesling, of the officers for the coming year. The Misses Margaret Phariss, Janet Coombs and Ollie Mae Clinkenbeard presented corsages to Mrs. Helen Doerr, president; Mrs. Ida Levenberg, vice-president; Mrs. Roberta Daniel, secretary; Mrs. Violet Gripenstraw, treasurer; Mrs. Grace Coombs, auditor and Mrs. Marion Pratt, parliamentarian.

Mr. Delos Bagly, principal, spoke on the growth of the community and the need of at least two new schoolrooms for the coming year.

Last Session of Grammar P.-T. A. Held Last Tuesday

The last session of the Campbell Grammar P.-T. A. unit convened May 1 in the school auditorium with Mrs. John Perata presiding. During the business meeting Mrs. F. B. Fossum, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and of the executive board meeting. Plans were made by the board for the magazine luncheon this fall, and a salvage drive to be conducted during October. Members of the board were asked to make every possible effort to attend the Sixth District school of instruction to be held at the Y.W.C.A. on Friday, May 18.

The units project for the year was an eye testing machine for the school. Mrs. Fossum read a letter of thanks from Mrs. Esther Johnson, school nurse, saying the machine was very much needed in the school and was greatly appreciated. Mrs. C. P. Klassen presented the traditional past presidents pin to Mrs. Walter Williams.

Mrs. Rex Fuller gave a very interesting talk on the Flanders Poppy, how it originated, how the paper ones are now made by veterans and how much the sale of these poppies means to the men who make them. Mrs. Fuller visited the Palo Alto Veterans hospital and watched the disabled veterans of World War I make the poppies for this district which will go on sale shortly before Memorial Day.

The unit was favorable to the suggestion of Room Mothers for next year. Room Mothers can be of great service to the unit and school, and help to establish a closer understanding between teachers and parents. It is hoped that since many mothers were in favor of the Room Mothers that they will volunteer for this service, and do all possible to make it a success.

Mrs. Esther Johnson chairman of the day, introduced Dr. Lydia Verberg of the County Health Department who spoke on "Health in Our Town". Dr. Verberg stressed protection against communicable diseases by immunization, most important of these being smallpox and diptheria. This immunization is given free of charge in the schools. Dr. Verberg also presented a movie showing the thorough health routine followed by teachers and nurses in our schools. The group adjourned to the cafeteria for refreshments served by mothers and teachers of the kindergarten and first grade children. The room count prize was awarded to Mrs. Bruce Hillards class. Small children were cared for during the meeting.

Helen Hayes as Harriet Beecher Stowe

Helen Hayes in "Harriet" in San Jose Monday, 21st

The coming to San Jose on Monday evening, May 21, of the great American actress, Helen Hayes, in "Harriet" is a theatrical event of equal significance with "Othello." "The audience lost its heart to Miss Hayes and all reason forsook it" said the New York Telegram of the Broadway opening of "Harriet," the Hayes portrait of one of America's greatest women running for 391 nights.

So successful have all of Helen Hayes' roles been that each has had a phenomenally long run. In her teens, when she appeared with Alfred Lunt in "Clarence," 300 performances marked the New York total. She played 366 nights in "Coquett" on Broadway, 268 in "What Every Woman Knows," three years in "Victoria Regina," two years in "Mary Queen of Scots," and already over two years in "Harriet."

Following Helen Hayes, the Denny-Watrous management is presenting Adolph Baller, pianist; Roman Tottenberg, violinist; and Gabor Rejto, cellist in an evening of trio music in the Montgomery Theatre, San Jose, on Thursday evening, June 7.

Tickets for both events may be secured from the Denny-Watrous box office, San Jose civic auditorium.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Ocowasin Camp Fire Group had a council fire on April 22. Members received Trail Seeker pins and beads.

The leader, Mrs. Bronson, is going on a short visit. The Group is very sorry to see her go.

Ethel Ann Oeser, Scribe.

Mrs. Helen Hillard Honored at Party

The house was beautifully decorated with spring flowers. On the mantle was an arrangement of tulips, snapdragon, delphinium, sweetpeas, Dutch iris, and ranunculus.

After the brief business meeting, Mrs. Hillard was presented with an oil painting by Mr. F. H. Cutting.

Refreshments were then served with Miss Hancie Naylor and Miss Gladys Merriman pouring. A large tiered bride's cake and ice cream was served with the bride cutting the traditional first piece. An attractive center piece of all white flowers, including baby gladili, syringa, and lilac adorned the serving table.

S/Sgt. Paul H. Wehunt, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Wehunt Rt. 1, Box 458 of Campbell, has been awarded a second Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal. The award was made for service as a waist gunner of a B-17 Flying Fortress.

Hedda Hopper: Looking at HOLLYWOOD

In the movies it's always an up-nd - down career, if not actually tough going. Our producers have doled it out in fits and starts—a number here, a finale there — as if they were afraid we could not take it in more than five-minute doses. And except for the Astaire - Rogers musicals and an occasional "Cover Girl" we've had mighty few that can really be described as dancing films.

Vera-Ellen

In this connection, the late Mark Sandrich was one of those rare producer - directors who had enough foresight to cry, "On with the dance!" He did the best of those delightful ballroom romances with Ginger and Fred, and just before he died he was preparing "Blue Skies," a cavalcade of hits by my old (but only in years of friendship) pal, Irving Berl'n.

Only Local Oversight

But if Hollywood — and exceptions like Mark Sandrich only prove the rule — has failed to grasp the terrific possibilities of the dance, the rest of the country certainly hasn't. On Broadway and in the once so - called hinterlands something has been happening—something to which Hollywood cannot close its eyes much longer.

What has happened, my dears, is that the dance has come into its own. And by dance I don't mean jive, although that, my spies report, is doing all right, too. I mean—and it's perfectly safe to come right out and say it—ballet. Only it's ballet with the curse off—pantomime and jazz and the classics and the joy of living, all rolled into one!

Today the big names are those like Agnes De Mille, Jerome Robbins, George Balanchine, and David Lichine, among choreographers, and Leonard Bernstein, brilliant young composer of "Fancy Free" and "On the Town." There are ballets in "Oklahoma," "Bloomer Girl," "One Touch of Venus," "Song of Norway," "Up in Central Park," "La Vie Parisienne," and "Carmen Jones." Anton Dolin and Alicia Markova are demonstrating terpsichore in Billy Rose's "Seven Lively Arts." Vera Zorina, that gorgeous, elflike creature, is posing in Shakespeare's "The Tempest." And Ruth Page and Sgt. Bentley Stone have set New York town—and Commissioner Moss — on their respective ears with a sensational interpretation of "Frankie and Johnny."

Common Denominator

Sooner or later motion pictures and the dance are bound to get together. The very soul of both is rhythm. In one sense they already have. Isn't Walt Disney the greatest creator of rhythm of them all? And we've had our "numbers" and our "specialties" by Veloz and Yolanda, the De Marcos, Carmen Amaya, the Hartmans, Katharine Dunham, and countless others. We've even had a short or two with the Ballet Russe. And we've had Astaire, Gene Kelly, Jimmy Cagney, George Murphy, and that spectacular leaper Marc Platt of "Tonight and Every Night."

Our dancing daughters have been few but precious — Rita Hayworth, Betty Grable, Ann Miller, Ruby Keeler, Eleanor Powell, Ginger (of course), and little Joan McCracken, who highlighted "Hollywood Canteen" with her "Ballet in Jive."

The other day I had the pleasure of watching a sequence from "Wonder Man," Danny Kaye's new one for Sam Goldwyn. Danny wasn't in it, but Vera-Ellen was. She sang and danced a number called "I'm So in Love." Sam hired her without even making a screen test after he'd caught her in "A Connecticut Yankee," and this time I'm betting on his judgment. Vera-Ellen (the last name is Rohe) is not only petite and blonde as Marilyn was; she can put over a song with refreshing charm and she's a dancin' fool.

If Warners ever get around to making that Marilyn Miller film they'll be wise to have a look at Vera-Ellen. If it's O.K. with Sam Goldwyn, of course.

Incidentally, Goldwyn, who is something of a wonder himself, has already snapped up Jerome Robbins, who staged the dances for "On the Town," to design numbers for Danny Kaye's next. Which brings ballet that much nearer to the screen.

Over-Age at 15 Months

Gene Tierney thought for one exciting moment she'd get her daughter in for a christening scene in "Dragonwyck." In fact, Joe Mankiewicz led her to believe it, then asked how old the baby was. She said, "15 months." "Sorry," said Joe, "She's 14 months too old." . . . Since so much fuss, feathers, and furbelows have been put on her in "The Dolly Sisters," Betty Grable thinks our costume designers should get an award next year. Why not? Set designers do.

PRODUCE

IT'S EASY TO THINK of your Victory Garden as just a little plot, not amounting to much in food production. BUT—do you know that last year America's little Victory Gardens, like yours, produced more than eight million tons of food? That was a big help in relieving the overworked farmer and the food packing plants. Let's do it again this year.

PRESERVE

WHEN YOUR CROPS come in, you may have a surplus of vegetables, fruits or berries—more than you need for daily meals. Be wise, be thrifty, be patriotic and can or preserve this surplus. Last year, home kitchens like yours, preserved almost three and a half billion quarts of vital food. Let's do it once more and help shorten the war.

PERSEVERE

LET'S ALL KEEP UP our efforts on the home front, even when the news is best from the battle fronts. It's going to take time to catch up with the waste of war, long after the last shot is fired. And home-canned goodies in the larder will be welcome as the boys come home. . . . When the dictators figured America would get tired, they didn't know about American perseverance.
